Grants and Contracts

BIORETS: Genetics, Genomics, and Biology Research Experiences for Teachers in the Sciences

Position on Grant: Co-Investigator

PI: Fern Tsien, PhD

Funding Period: February 2024 – January 2027

Award: $ 592,118

The award supports training high school science teachers with the latest research, information, instruments, and tools, etc.

REU Site: Experience for Undergraduates in Genomics and Biochemistry

Position on Grant: Co-Investigator

PI: Fern Tsien, PhD

Funding Period: March 2021-February 2024

Award: $328,827

The award supports eligible undergraduate students to participate in the annual summer research program on LSUHSC New Orleans campus.

Expanded Dissemination of K-12 Science Educational Videos

Funding Source: Entergy Corporation

Position on Grant: Co-Investigator

PI: Fern Tsien, PhD

Funding Period: March 2017- December 2019

Award: $240,000

The award supports disseminating a series of three sets of science education videos aimed at elementary, middle, and high school (K-12). The project will create a suite of cross-platform media and physical resources such as standalone videos, mobile applications, and graphic novel-style textbooks/e-books. Products would be available individually and in aggregate, through digital and physical sales channels, to an end-user market of school districts, teachers, parents, students, and home-school families.

Expanded Dissemination of K-12 Science Educational Videos

Funding Source: LSU Board of Supervisor (Leveraging Innovation for Technology Transfer - LIFT<sup>2</sup>)

Position on Grant: Co-Investigator

PI: Fern Tsien, PhD

Funding Period: August 2016- December 2019

Award: $35,000

The award supports disseminating a series of three sets of science education videos aimed at elementary, middle, and high school (K-12). The project will create a suite of cross-platform media and physical resources such as standalone videos, mobile applications, and graphic novel-style textbooks/e-books. Products would be available individually and in aggregate, through digital and physical sales channels, to an end-user market of school districts, teachers, parents, students, and home-school families.

Science Youth Initiative: SYI

Funding Source: Baptist Community Ministries

Position on Grant: Co-Investigator

PI: Fern Tsien, PhD

Funding Period: August 2014 – October 2017

Award: $318,000

This funding supports New Orleans area K-12 students with the goals of making science easy to understand and less intimidating, improving academic achievements in science, exposing them to diverse role models in the sciences (female and underrepresented minorities), increasing awareness of science as a future career, and sharing their science education with the greater community. The award will be used for the production of educational science videos.

Steps to a Healthier Houston/ Harris County Consortium Coordinated Approach to Child Health (CATCH) Program

Funding Source: Houston Endowment Foundation

Position on Grant: Director

Funding Period: September 2005- May 2008

Award: $2.4 million

This project provided obesity prevention training to faculty and school administrators, and physical education equipment to more than 500 elementary and middle schools in 20+ school districts. The large-scale project was not only research-based practice, but allowed the University of Texas an excellent opportunity to expand their previous practice-based research using our large sample.

Tulane Prevention Research Center

Funding Source: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

Position on Grant: Program Manager

Funding Period: October 2004 – September 2005

The Tulane Prevention Research Center (PRC) is a research and technical assistance center that focuses on the physical and social environmental factors of obesity among low-income residents of New Orleans. It allows both faculty and university students a living laboratory in which to conduct both practice and research. Before Hurricane Katrina, the center assessed and planned community outreach initiatives addressing physical activity and nutrition.

South Central Center for Public Health Preparedness (SCCPHP)

Funding Source: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

Position on Grant: Program Manager

Funding Period: October 2001- September 2004

Award: $1 million

The Center conducted needs assessments and in response, developed, offered and evaluated bioterrorism/all-hazards training and technical assistance to the public health workforce at state and local health agencies in four states. Training modules were grounded in real-life examples to maximize the quality and enhance the relevancy for the mid-career professional participants.

South Central Public Health Training Center (SCPHTC)

Funding Source: Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA)

Position on Grant: Program Manager

Funding Period: October 2000 - September 2004

Award: $330,000

The Training Center partnered with local and state public health agencies to provide training and technical assistance to the public health workforce in four states. Center activities included needs assessment, and the design, provision and evaluation of basic to graduate-level training modules for synchronous and asynchronous delivery. Training modules were grounded in real-life examples to maximize the quality and enhance the relevancy for the mid-career professional participants.

Bringing Education and Practice Together for Environmental Health Education of the Nursing Workforce

Funding Source: Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry

Position on Grant: Program Manager

Funding Period: October 2002- September 2004

The project developed and delivered an environmental training to nurses through a partnership with state health departments and state nursing associations.

Targeted Pre-Event Message Development for WMD Threats

Funding Source: Association of Schools of Public Health/Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

Position on Grant: Program Manager

Funding Period: October 2002 – September 2003

The project assessed emergency preparedness messages through focus groups.

Graduate Certificate Program

Funding Source: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

Position on Grant: Program Coordinator

Funding Period: September 1996 – October 2000

Award: $330,000

The Graduate Certificate Program was a distance learning initiative tailored for the mid-career public health professional. The graduate-level certificate program with asynchronous web-based courses expanded over time to allow students to complete a master of public health. In the MPH extension program, students fulfilled the required community internship.

Drug-Free School Consortium (DFSC)

Funding Source: US Department of Justice

Position on Grant: Research Assistant

Funding Period: 1995 - 1996

The consortium shared best practices and lessons learned from substance use and abuse reduction initiatives on college campuses. Members were substance abuse counselors and other key stakeholders from institutions of higher education throughout southern Louisiana.

Membership in Professional Organizations

Association of Women in Science, (AWIS), Louisiana Chapter, 2015 – 2020

(Community Outreach Co-Chair, 2017-2018; 2020; Professional Development Co-Chair, 2018)

Association of University Programs in Healthcare Administration, 2011-2012
